WHAT TO EXPECT

---

BEFORE THE SESSION

Once we've received your deposit payment, we'll start planning your session. We'll call you to go over the details of your packet. We'll keep an eye on the weather forecast and contact you (the day of or day before your session) if we feel the session may need to be moved earlier or later in the day or re-scheduled. We will then meet for your photography session, have loads of fun and capture great images. Addit'l fees may be incurred in the event a client opts to re-schedule.

AFTER THE SESSION

A week or so after your session we will contact you to schedule your in-office viewing appointment where you will preview the images and choose your favorites . The appointment generally takes an hour or two. This is the opportunity to purchase any additional images and products, so please prepare to bring along anyone with the ordering/purchasing power as unordered images are purged. In a week or so We may post our favorites to our blog & facebook fanpage. Remember when you post & share, please tag or give us a courtesy credit! We then burn, package & prepare your customized photos and any additional products you've ordered for pick up.

WHAT is CREATIVE DIRECTION?

When the thought of taking photos popped into your head, you were either leisurely scrolling through photos on Facebook or Instagram and bumped into your friends engagement photos or your cousins recent family shoot, and you thought, man..."I would love to have amazing photos like that!" Well, wherever your inspiration came from, you were probably soon left wondering, "But can I look as good as that?"

THAT'S WHERE I COME IN!

Unlike many photographers, I give each and every client creative direction. This direction first develops when we discuss the concept of your shoot, exploring inspiration ideas for your outfits, and which location will serve as the perfect backdrop for your session. Next, is where most of my clients get excited but a tad bit nervous...Posing. Past clients will tell you the relief they felt to have someone guide and give direction during the entire shoot. Not having to worry whether their best angle is being captured or how does my hair look, or is my smile fake...I help with it all!

The unique images you see gracing my portfolio are of beautiful everyday people like you and me. They work and have busy lives just like you, so the last thing they want to worry about is what kind of images are going to be captured on the day of the session. Leave the magic to me! Now the same creativity used to capture each of your memories, is the same creative genius that follows after your session when you visit our studio to view your images for the first time, and the selection of your favorites, as well as designing your custom keepsakes.

So let all those concerns like "Will my husband/fiance smile?", or "Is it possible to take good pics of my high energy and moody (but adorable) kids?", or the famous "I need to loose weight before I get in front of that camera!", all go out the window as I take the reigns to capturing your loving memories.

Lastly, while we all do get caught up in the chaos of creating the most "perfect" portrait, let's remember the real reason why these photos should be taken in the first place. I want to create the most beautiful memories for you that when you look back all the anxiety and stress of photoshoot prepping will be forgotten...the only thing that will remain in that image is the evidence of ...Love.

HAPPY customers

“What an amazing photographer and human being! So thoughtful and caring. I would recommend Love Daley Photography to everyone!! We had an amazing time and we LOVE our pics!”

LAINISHA TURNER

MARIE & RONEL

A romantic couple is captured in a close embrace on a city sidewalk. The woman is wearing a long, patterned dress and high heels, while the man is in a white shirt and dark vest. They are standing under a large, light-colored awning of a cafe or restaurant. The background shows a blurred city street with trees and a sign that partially reads "COMMUN". The scene is bathed in soft, natural light, creating a warm and intimate atmosphere.
